

November 2017

Praying friends,

“Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving...” (Ps. 147:7). During this month when we set aside time to praise the Lord for His blessings, I would like to thank Him for several blessings that I have experienced while traveling on deputation.

Speaking at a Ladies' Brunch

First, of all, I want to praise the Lord for providing many missions meetings this fall! I have been privileged to present in many wonderful churches during the months of September and October from Michigan to Florida. (Plus, I got to listen to forty-four hours of great preaching throughout these conferences as well!) The people in these churches have been such an encouragement to me by sharing my burden for Kenya. I have been blessed with many people coming up to me saying they have committed to pray for me and for my mission field.

Second, I praise the Lord for many opportunities to interact with the next generation of Christian workers. Although I have been able to speak to many different groups of people—ladies, senior saints, teens, and young adults—my favorite opportunities have been speaking to the children. The Lord has allowed me to speak twelve times to children over the past two months in Sunday school classes, junior churches, and Christian schools. It is thrilling to see these young people become burdened for the mission field and catch a vision of what God may do through them! The Lord is already working in these young lives: many children are already giving to faith promise missions. Also, it has blessed my heart to meet two young ladies that have surrendered to missions! Praise the Lord!

Please continue to pray for me as I seek to schedule more meetings for 2018! I am looking forward to a great year of serving the Lord!

In His Service,

Erica Bohman
