Church Planting in Charleville-Mézières, France

June/July 2015

Dear Supporting Friends,

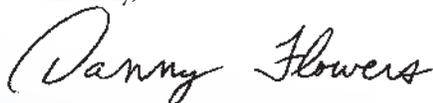

We recently returned from a two month furlough in the US. It was encouraging to visit our family and friends as well as report to several churches. Seeing these ministries gave us further desire and motivation for the church plant in Charleville. We are currently praying about officially organizing our church in the fall. Would you please pray with us about this next step?

While we were stateside, fellow missionary James Carney filled in for us for all the services. He preached, taught, and encouraged the people in their Christian walk. Knowing the church was in good hands was a blessing. It was during our time away that a lady named Sophie visited after she received an invitation in her mailbox. She was delighted about learning so much from the Bible in the services. Unfortunately, her Catholic upbringing had left her with a lost soul and more questions than answers. After hearing the Gospel several times at church, she met with James and Virginie to talk one-on-one. They had the privilege of leading her to Christ in June. She was thrilled to have peace and assurance from God's Word, but after only a short time she fell away. Her Catholic friends and priest began putting pressure on her about attending a Baptist church. Please pray for her to stand firm in her new faith.

After our return to France in mid-July, we had a few days to recover before leaving for three weeks of summer camp in Belgium. We have finished two of them and have one more week to go. I have had the privilege of heading up the class sessions for the teens on the French side. We have seen more than ever how it is a spiritual battle. We can plan and organize all we want, but prayer is what it takes to get through to these teens who are constantly bombarded by the world. The spiritual future of Europe hinges on young people giving themselves to Jesus and serving Him. So far two Belgian young ladies and a French teen have trusted Christ. Praise God for this victory!

Thank you for lifting us up in prayer. God bless.

Sincerely,
