Dear Praying Supporters,

We pray this letter finds each of you enjoying good health and the joys of this season. Our Thanksgiving was a real time of thanksgiving spent in Missouri with family, and we are looking forward to spending Christmas with Tennessee family. These days are certainly special and a time of great joy for us. November has also been a time of broken toes (Jennifer's!! By the way, those orthopedic boots can be used on either foot!!) and lots of doctor appointments and tests. Thankfully the tests have been pretty good so far, but we will need some "maintenance" while we are home for the holidays.

Every ministry has challenges and we experienced a bit of that in 2018, but God gave us so many incredible opportunities to serve Him during the past year. We enjoyed working with our Reseeding America church planters and missionaries as well as with other men and churches who wanted us to assist them with church plants and church restarts. God opened the door for us to challenge a good number of new churches for missions and church planting. Teaching opportunities at Pensacola Christian College and our BIMi candidate school gave us time with students and young couples who are following the call of God on their lives. A summer church planting survey trip to the Northeast United States provided quality time with two younger men who really love the Lord and want to be in ministry. Throughout the past year, your faithful prayers and support have been a great blessing and help and we want to thank all of you for partnering with us in this ministry.

We are excited about starting our 16th year of ministry with BIMi/Reseeding America. Seeing the Multitudes will continue to be our theme for the new year as we focus and pray for the metropolitan mission fields of the United States. We chose this theme because there are now 381 metropolitan cities across America. These large, sprawling urban areas are home to 83% of our nation's population. This means that the great majority of America's unchurched and unreached live in our large cities. We continue to ask God to do some incredible things. Please pray with us that God will raise up 30 new church planting families who will surrender to go to the United States metropolitan mission fields.

We trust you will have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year! May God bless and encourage each of you and your families today and in the coming year of 2019 as you serve Him!

Bob and Jennifer Larson (Signature)
