Missionaries to Fiji

Dear Praying Pastor and Church,

September 30, 2018

Thank you for continued prayers for our family. I was able to return to Fiji on August 29, after being in the States for three months due to my wife's health issues. I returned before my family to de-mold our home in order to make it safe for my wife to return to the field. The plan was for me to come three weeks before they arrived so I could completely clean the house, but unfortunately my wife was advised by her doctor to stay a bit longer. She had another test for the mold in her system before she left, and they found that the mold had increased again, enough for them to put her on a stronger medication, which required her to stay and have her liver monitored. Please pray that all continues to go well and that she can return at the end of the month.

Things are going well here in Fiji. It has been hard for our family to be separated so much this year, but the ministry continues to move forward. I am very thankful for the men of our church filling in the gap while I was away. It is good to be back here serving in Fiji.

This past week I was able to preach at a family conference that was focused on the home. Five churches attended the conference. It is always good for the people here to learn about the Biblical home. The culture of Fiji is so contrary to the Bible that the concept of Biblical roles in the home is all new to them. I taught on child training while the other men preached on the Biblical marriage relationship. It was a good conference, and I'm thankful for Bro. Daku putting it together.

God has been good to our family in spite of this being a trying year with many ups and downs. We are thankful for all of you who have prayed faithfully for us. Please pray for my wife as she continues to recover. We are praying that she will be able to return to Fiji, and have no further issues with the mold here.

In Christ,

Josh, Renee, Luke, Micah and Josiah Warneke
