Dear Praying Friends,

"I have no fear of God," she said. For a moment, I was at a loss for words while looking at the professional lady that had made that statement. When we think of witnessing, we usually think of leading someone to a saving decision in Christ, but sometimes witnessing is just introducing God to someone who does not have the correct perception of Him. I met this young lady on an airplane a couple months ago, and the Lord opened up the opportunity for us to get into a conversation. Although she's lived in America all her life, it seems she had never heard the Gospel; however, she became sincerely interested, asking many questions about what the Bible said on different topics. When the conversation concluded as we landed a couple hours later, she said she wanted to learn more about the Bible and promised to read it if I sent her one.

She has a Bible now, and has been reading it. We have been able to keep in touch, and were even able to meet recently to discuss more about the Bible. Please pray for her salvation! She is still confused in some areas, yet it seems she really wants to know the truth...perhaps that is why God coordinated our meeting and connecting in a way only He could have done.

For me, this experience was a wonderful reminder...I thought I was just taking a flight to my next destination, but God had me there to help this young lady seek Him.

Linguistic studies are continuing well. We just completed Morphology and Syntax, the part of the course that taught us how to analyze the grammar systems from collected data, as well as a class in which we practiced the language learning process on a real language. These classes were such an encouragement as they made learning a language even without a language school seem much more attainable. Thank you for your continued prayers!

In His Service,

Erica Bohman
